

The RGB Mindscape

"It takes one guy with an idea.", they say of film making, of coming up with a spark of a thought that could erupt into a flame of imaginations eventually leading up to an eternally burning fire of cinema.

It is this fire that we keep stoking in our art rooms, the same fire that brings flies in our bellies and rattle our nerves from time to time as frame after frame poses a fresh threat every time we sit to negotiate a turn or a curve forward.

I think it is that sense of insecurity, that eternal quest to perfect and that ever present need to provide, that keeps our fire lit and our clients pleased.

We look forward to your strain of thoughts...
